ALL BLACKS VISIT WAKEFIELD SCHOOL

On the 20th of June two All Blacks visited Wakefield school, along with the Weetbix guy and a huge team from the Weetbix Tryathlon. It was all because Kyro and Jaxon Baigent's grandmother won a Weetbix competition at Four Square last year and our school got the prize!

It was a sunny but freezing morning when we all gathered on the court to welcome our visitors with a kapa haka performance and mihi. The All Blacks introduced themselves as Joe Moody and Anton Lienert-Brown and they were interviewed about how they became All Blacks and what it's like to be an All Black. Anton said his dad told him the way to succeed was to work harder than everybody else, so that's what he tries to do. Joe said when he first got called to be an All Black he thought somebody was playing a joke on him.

Then we went out to the back field which had been set up with heaps of activities. It looked so fun because there were big inflatable obstacles and tents and obstacle courses. The huge All Black inflatable had been up all night and was covered in ice, which made it even more exciting for the first groups to use the slide!

We spent the whole morning going around all the activities. We played Stat Attack and won cards. Everyone got to make our own personal Stat Attack card and now we're all playing Stat Attack at school.

There was the biggest interactive wall in the world set up in the hall, where you scored points by hitting targets with a ball. There was also a try-challenge where we raced the length of our obstacle course and jumped over and crawled under stuff, finishing with a sprint through the Weetbix tryathlon arch and a medal presented by Joe or Anton.

There was also a breakfast tent where you could get all these delicious things such as Weetbix, yogurt and fruit.

TV's What Now programme filmed the whole event and Asha and Asher, two of our students, got to be What Now reporters for the day. It will be on What Now at the beginning of July.

Our favourite part of this amazing morning was meeting Joe and Anton.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTIONS: NOMINATIONS FROM 15 JULY

It's board election time again. Next term we will be electing board members for the next three years.

Nominations will open for the election of 5 parent representatives to the school board no later than 15 July. NOTE: This starts during the school holidays.

The returning officer for the triennial board election is Bernardine Vester. She can be contacted at returningofficer@myschoolelection.nz.

The timetable for the election is:

Main Roll closes:	Wednesday 13 July
Call for Nominations:	No later than 15 July.
Supplementary Roll closes:	Monday 1 August
Nominations close:	Wednesday 3 August

If there are more nominations than vacancies, then parents and caregivers will receive an invitation to vote either electronically or by post.

Voting starts:	Wednesday 10 August
Election day is:	September 7
Voting count:	Tuesday 13 September
New board in place:	Wednesday 14 September.

Nominations can be made online through an email link provided in the Call for Nominations. However, a hard copy nomination form can also be obtained from the school office.

If you wish to stand for the board, it is recommended that you provide a candidate statement and photograph.

The electoral roll will be held at the school and can be viewed during normal school hours.

Our Community Member Guide to the Role of School Boards provides information on what school boards are, the role of members, and how to become a board member.

On Thursday July 21st at 7pm NZSTA will also be hosting a Kōrari Question and Answers session. This will provide an opportunity for people ask questions directly from our regional advisors. This is a free event, anyone with an interest in the work of school boards can register online here.

OUR MATARIKI CELEBRATIONS

On 22nd June Wakefield School held a Matariki celebration. The community and whanau arrived at 5:00pm and were welcomed by the junior kapahaka group, then everyone watched the school rock band perform Save Your Tears by The Weekend and the vocal group sang a Matariki song written by their teacher, Margy.

After that we served hot soup that the children had made, with yummy bread rolls from Freshbake, and admired all the displays of art and Matariki learning in the classrooms.

At 6:30 the senior kapahaka group did an amazing performance on the court in front of rooms 7 and 8; they looked great in their costumes, even though it was such a cold night. The plan to use the Wakefield fire engine to provide lighting was good until they were called away, leaving us in the dark! But a few clever parents held up phones to light the performance.

At 7:00PM all the classroom lights were turned off and we were able to go around all the classes and look at the lanterns with the lights off. On the deck outside rooms 3&4 Toroa team had created an amazing diorama of their study of Kupe. It showed his waka, with birds and stars and fish all around, and the giant octopus attacking. It was beautiful.

Long strings of fairy lights lit up the pathways around the school and children's lanterns were hung among these. The senior children's lanterns were all made about the eye of the taniwha art project. They looked mysterious and a bit spooky. On the boardwalk by the tyre swings there were long lights and lanterns all hanging on the lights and off the willow tunnel.

It was really awesome to take part in Wakefield school's Matariki celebration.

On the night of 22nd June we had a Matariki celebration at school. Our whole Whanau were allowed to come. We listened to the school Rock Band and Kapa Haka groups perform They were amazing! Students in every class made a different soup So everybody had cups of hot soup and yummy bread rolls It was sooo cold (especially because the sun was going down!) We decided to go and play tag to keep warm. We had finished and were hot and sweaty at this point. A little while later it was dark and all the lights in the classroom were turned off. Except the little fake candles. They were lighting up our dragon eye art work! All the classrooms had different art ideas. So each one looked cool and colourful. We went around and looked at every classroom. Each one more colourful than the last. Toroa team's diorama of Kupe's voyage with the big octopus attacking the waka. The fairy lights twinkling on the path walk, lighting up the little children's lanterns. And the Matariki stars glowing in the sky.

On Wednesday the 22nd of June Wakefield School had a Matariki celebration. First the junior kapa haka group performed a few waiata. They were amazing. Next the school rock band performed Save your tears by The Weekend, and the vocal group sang a Matariki song written by their teacher, Margy.

Then the teachers served the delicious soup made by the students and everyone had a look around the school at the lanterns. Toroa team recreated Kupe's waka and made some flax fish and Matariki stars to go with it. It was awesome. Karearea team made lanterns out of their taniwha eye artwork they had been making. The junior children of Matai syndicate strung their lanterns along the boardwalk and the veranda of room eleven. They looked so magical.

At 6:15 the senior kapa haka performed some lovely waiata on the court outside rooms 7 and 8. The Wakefield fire truck was on hand to provide the main source of light but they had a call out so they had to leave, and suddenly we were in the dark. But some clever adults held up their phones to light up the kapa haka group. Afterwards, some students shared facts about Matariki. That was it. Overall it was a very exciting night and all the performances were amazing. The lanterns and the soup were my favourite part of the night

COMMUNITY NOTICES

MILKANDHONEY ARTS ACADEMY

I am thrilled to offer Preschool Ballet, Junior Hip Hop, Senior Hip Hop and Theatre to the community based at Wakefield Primary School!

My name is Kayleigh and I am a dancer, performer, and performing arts teacher. Over the last 20 years I have taught and performed on stage in South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand. I have also created and led community events, creative arts workshops, and stage shows as well as choreographed for many more.

As a teacher and parent, I believe that dance class should be a fun and safe place to express creativity, ensuring that all music and choreography is age appropriate.

Which toothpaste ?

Fluoride strengthens and protects teeth.

The Ministry of Health recommends that children and adults should use fluoride toothpaste of at least 1000ppm strength (0.22% sodium fluoride).

Under 6 years: Use a smear of toothpaste

From age 6 to adult: Use a pea size amount

Brush for 2 minutes twice a day to avoid tooth decay. Just spit, don't rinse!

These are some of the toothpastes that contain the adequate amount of fluoride.
